

---

THE STYLE FILES

---

your daily dose of inspiration

THE TRAVEL FILES: HOTEL MONTEVERDI IN TUSCANY, ITALY

Posted on April 29, 2015 | 4 Comments

Soon I will be off to Tuscany, Italy, for a few days. We will be staying near the town of Lucca in a lovely small hotel which is well known for its exquisite food. I will be sharing some images when I am back but in the mean time I would like to show you another gorgeous hotel which is tucked away in the tiny Tuscan village of Castiglioncello del Trinoro. The stunning Hotel Monteverdi offers seven magnificent rooms and suites, each of them uniquely decorated with the most beautiful furnishings and art work. I especially love the rustic elements of the exposed ceiling beams and stone walls. Designer Ilaria Miani very well succeeded in combining modern furnishing with a traditions style. More information is available on the hotel's website.

4 RESPONSES TO THE TRAVEL FILES: HOTEL MONTEVERDI IN TUSCANY, ITALY

---

Leslie | April 29, 2015 at 3:34 pm |

Enjoy! My sister-in-law is from Lucca, and it's one of my favorite towns in Italy to visit.

Charlotte | April 29, 2015 at 6:03 pm |

Beautiful hotel! Would you mind sharing where you are staying now? Thanks!

The Office Stylist | April 30, 2015 at 9:53 pm |

What a beautiful place! This hotel has the perfect combination of rustic and modern elements. I love all the natural wood and the metal details.

The Office Stylist

<http://www.theofficestylist.com>

Mauro | May 6, 2015 at 10:17 am |

What an amazing place you've found out. I will book my next holiday there for sure 😊

Mauro

[tuscanys Travels.webnode.com/](http://tuscanys Travels.webnode.com/)